

GENESIS 8:22 | A FUNDAMENTAL PROMISE TO CREATION

- If you believe the Bible, you are freed from so many kinds of worries! One of those worries is the worry that the earth will not sustain life as we know it.
- Genesis 8:22 is so clear and so plain that it can give encouragement to every Bible believing citizen of earth.
 - Add to this promise the knowledge of Genesis 1:1-5 in light of the energy inherent to every atom and you begin to realize that we live on (and have dominion of) an energized planet.
- But when you live in a world that has rejected the Bible (and we do), then you have a clear and present danger.
 - Rejection of one philosophy always leads to acceptance of another philosophy.
 - Our society has largely accepted Darwinianism, despite every shred of evidence.
 - Darwinianism has a fundamental creed: the survival of the fittest.
 - When this creed is adopted, somebody is going to die. And Darwin is responsible for more human deaths perhaps than any other man, because his philosophy fueled Nazi and Communist ideology.
 - The second philosophy that has been adopted (often along with Darwinianism) is a “Mother Earth” philosophy.
 - In this philosophy, the living become subservient to the non-living.
 - The lowest becomes the master of the highest.

WHAT IS ENVIRONMENTAL TYRANNY?

- Environmental tyranny goes by the term “green agenda” and is often associated with terms like “climate change,” “sustainable development,” “carbon footprint,” and “net zero.”
- The environmental agenda of this eco-tyranny is not science-based, but a political fundraising and power movement.
 - The “science” within the movement is carefully culled to match the agenda of the movement, thus making it not science in any form.
- Like all tyrannical movements, this one is based on using fear to manipulate the masses.

THE DEADLY AGENDA OF ENVIRONMENTAL TYRANNY

- The tyranny has adopted policies that are destructive to civilization.
 - The policies will sentence billions to poverty, while enriching those at the top.
 - The policies are anti-poor and anti-middle class, upon whom the greatest of the burden will fall.
 - Because poor people are the first to die from cold, starvation, housing shortages, food-supply shortages, and lack of necessary resources due to inflation related “taxation,” the environmental agenda is a death-sentence to the poor.
- Because the agenda will make energy resources scarce, it will be the rich and powerful (who can afford the scarce resources) that will benefit at the expense of the poor and working class.
- The environmental agenda is anti-human.
 - It has its own version of “total depravity,” and humans are the worst of creation.
 - It is so anti-human that humanity, civilization, and the expanse of neighborhoods is “evil.”

- What is the agenda?
 - Ban chlorine.
 - Chlorine is an effective oxidizing agent that, through experience, is handled in a very safe and effective manner.
 - Banning chlorine would cost hundreds of billions and be seen by the consumer in more expensive water and sewer bills, paper, and hundreds of household items.
 - Ban fossil fuels.
 - These fuels are the only privately efficient fuel source (that is, not requiring taxpayer funded subsidies).
 - When the use of natural fuels is prohibited, everything you use will cost considerably more than it does today.
 - About 60% of electricity is currently generated through relatively cheap fossil fuels, with another 20% generated through nuclear power. To remove these would have catastrophic effects on individual prosperity.
 - Ban food products, especially meat.
 - Meat production takes land, water, and all the fuels environmentalists hate. So the solution is don't eat meat.
 - The first substitute was protein-rich plants, but those take land, water, and fuel also. So the current proposal is to eat bugs.
 - Create artificial food products.
 - The environmental tyrants want you to quit eating meat and dairy. Period.
 - Instead, they want you to eat plant-based or lab-created synthetic "meat."
 - Less privately owned land.
 - By federalizing land, the government can control (and usually eliminate) fuel sourcing from these lands, thus making household energy much more expensive.
 - Almost every expansion of federal lands in the last 20 years has been to limit fossil fuel production.
 - By making land too expensive to own, governments can force the poor into close (and controlled) living in a very tiny house (and thus create lesser fuel use).
 - Less water available for agricultural use.
 - Because it is virtually impossible for lakes and dams to be built on private lands, and because it is virtually impossible for lakes and dams to be built under the environmental agenda, water that could be used for agricultural use and for electrical generation is lost into oceans with no energy benefit.
 - Fewer cars and no gasoline engines.
 - By eliminating gasoline engines the poor will be forced to public transportation.
 - Fewer people.
 - Environmental tyrants literally believe that the population of the earth must be reduced.
 - Policies are being enacted which call for "sustainable reduction in population."

- The late Prince Phillip once said that he would like to be reincarnated as a deadly virus in order to contribute a solution to the overpopulation problem.

HOW THE TYRANNY WILL AFFECT YOU

- Government policies will make our world's abundant energy unavailable for use.
- These policies will create government overlords that will determine who gets energy, when, and why.
- There will be tens of thousands of deaths during times when peak energy is needed, but unavailable.
- Evil governments will capitalize on the need and use it for political power.
- Your need for energy will force you to submit to the Energy Overlords.
